'Short snorter' for 12th November 1944, a Romanian 5000 lei banknote from British diplomat, Sir John Helier Le Rougetel KCMG MC (1894 – 1975), signed by Le Rougetel, King Michael I of Romania (1921 - 2017), Brigadier General C.V.R. Schuyler USA (1900 – 1993), Burton Yost Berry (1901 – 1985), First Lieutenant Fred Marchman USA? Together with three other signatures unidentified by us and worthy of research. King Michael of Romania reigned twice, the second reign was between 1940 and 1947 when he was forced to abdicate by the communist party of Romania. From 1944 to 1946 Le Rougetel was Political Representative in Romania, before receiving his first ambassadorial posting to Tehran in 1946. Le Rougetel later served as British Ambassador to Belgium (1950-1) and as a High Commissioner to South Africa (1951-5). He retired in 1955, having been made a Knight Commander of the Order of St Michael and St George. In the autumn of 1944, Schuyler was assigned to Bucharest, Romania, as a U.S. military representative on the Allied (British, U.S. and Russian) Control Commission. The Commission was created to administer the terms of the Romanian Armistice Agreement. Burton Yost Berry (1901 – 1985) was an American diplomat and art collector, he served as Consul to Bucharest in 1944. Provenance: Gifted to the vendor by Lady Mary Le Rougetel.
